3rd ESCI EUROPEAN SECURITY CONFERENCE INITIATIVE WELS/AUSTRIA, 2 – 3 JULY 2008 MAXIMILIANSAL (VOLKSBANK), SPITALHOF 3A

MAIN THEME: SECURITY AND SOCIETY EVOLVING CHALLENGES AND COMPREHENSIVE RESPONSES

The European Security Conference Initiative (ESCI), established in 2005, seeks to integrate and amend security knowledge, policies and strategies for Europe and its neighbourhood, reaching far beyond the defence dimension. In doing so, it contributes to the practical implementation of the new paradigm of security governance. Open to the interested public, ESCI aims at congregating experts from the international scene, the public sector, from research and academics, business and the media.

ESCI 2008 will take place as a trans-disciplinary event, drawing its thematic thrust from the 7th EU Framework Programme (FP 7). ESCI's thematic structure reflects main themes of security research within FP 7, focusing on societal vulnerabilities and resilience. ESCI follows a mission-oriented approach contributing to gain and integrate practical knowledge in areas such as citizen security, security infrastructure, border security, security restoration in case of crisis, interconnectivity and interoperability in mitigation, preparedness, response and recovery. ESCI 2008 will also serve as a platform for security research coordination and structuring with a special view to trans-sectoral challenges and cross-cutting issues of comprehensive European crisis management and threat reduction.
